F. Explanatory notes

The variances were caused by:

- (1) The Company had, after consultation with its Independent Auditors and concurrence from the Audit Committee, changed the revenue recognition for a construction contract from the output method¹ to the input method². The changes were to better reflect the measure of progress towards satisfaction of performance obligations over time. As a result, the revenue recognised for the contract for FY2022 was reduced by $2,389,000 with the corresponding increase in contract liabilities being recognised in the Group's statement of financial position as at 31 December 2022.
- (2) The increase in revenue resulted from the change in revenue recognition of a construction contract from the output method to the input method as mentioned in Note 1 above. As a result, revenue recorded for FY2023 increased by $2,414,000 in the Audited Financial Statements compared to the Unaudited Financial Statements.
- (3) Revenue recognised for FY2022 was reduced by $2,389,000 as a result of prior year adjustments as mentioned in Note 1 above.
- (4) The net change to trade and other receivables, contract assets; trade and other payables, contract liabilities; provisions and additions to property, plant and equipment was due to the change in revenue recognition mentioned in Note 2 above amounting to a decrease of $2,414,000.
- (5) The increase in net loss for FY2022 was a result of prior year adjustments as mentioned in Note 1.
- (6) The changes to trade and other payables, contract liabilities arose due to an increase in contract liabilities for FY2022 as mentioned in Note 1.

² For construction project measured using input method, the performance obligation milestone is measured based on actual costs incurred to-date relative to the total budgeted costs for each project.
